

TUNAP fascinates ...

with innovative developments and system solutions for the chemical industry. As the technological market leader in the areas of automotive, industry, packaging and household, we offer design and development, manufacturing, and sales from a single source. Through innovations and reliable products developed by our own in-house development and manufacturing departments as well as a broad international direct sales staff, we have become a successful and trusted partner to the automobile industry. We have above-average annual growth and currently employ an international staff of more than 600 employees.
